WEF Global Risks 2024

We are facing first human development regression in decades:

1. Technology is likely to exacerbate inequalities
2. Net zero challenge sits between what is scientifically and politically possible
3. Potential ecosystem collapse if we do not manage the interplay between climate change impacts, biodiversity loss, food security, natural resource consumption

GOALWEAVER

Interconnected crisis

spanning economic, environmental, geopolitical, societal and technological risk verticals, globally.

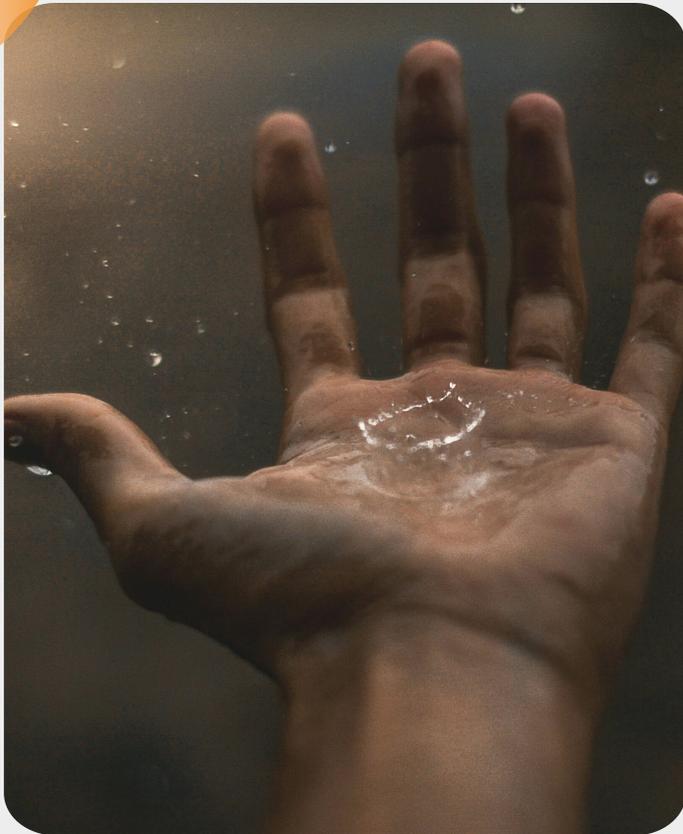

In 2 years...

New thinking, greater collaboration needed

GOALWEAVER

In 10 years...

Urgent need to work better together in BANI* world

Likely humanitarian crisis scenario due to action gap in mitigating and adapting climate change causing large-scale involuntary migration and natural resource crisis eroding social cohesion compounded by geopolitical and technological stressors.

BANI: Brittle, Anxious, Non-linear and Incomprehensible*

Leadership Implications

Dignity approach to problem solving required

According to MIT Sloan's 2024 Tips for Leaders, we need to harness the power of generative AI by honing in the strengths of our people and setting the right tone with communications and empathy-building.

44%

By 2027, businesses predict that almost half (44%) of workers' core skills will be disrupted. - WEF, Feb 2024
